Dr. Woodsworth Guest Speaker At Graduation Exercises, May 30

CROSSFIELD—Dr. Woodsworth was the guest speaker at the graduation exercises held for five graduating Crossfield students May 30. Graduates Donna McNaughton, Frances Banta, Beth Landymore, Pauline Price and Joanne Copley were feted at a banquet, program and dance in the Community Memorial Hall.

For the banquet the basement of the hall was decorated in school colors of turquois and black and the same color scheme was carried out in streamers decorating the tables resplendent with beautiful floral arrangements. Places were laid for around 180 guests marked with cards bearing the school crest which also marked the individual programs at each cover.

Grade IX students ushered the guests and Grade VIII served the tables. The guests were received downstairs by Mr. Mumby, principal, Mr. and Mrs. Turly and Neil Bannister. The toastmaster was Neil Bannister who opened the program with the Doxology.

A very delicious banquet was enjoyed. Mrs. W. Aldred is to be commended for convening of same with other helpers from the Home and School Association which sponsored the banquet. A toast to the Queen was made by Joyce Kotow and everyone sang the Anthem.

A toast to the graduates was proposed by Jack Kelly—reply was given by Frances Banta.

A pleasing piano duet was played by Joyce Jensen and Joyce McDonald. Charlie Rowat spoke to the ex-students to which Barbara Bills fittingly responded.

Mildred Smart gave a pretty vocal number after which Keith Bannister made a toast to the present Student Body to which Lloyd Taas replied. Eugene Harder delighted those present with an accordion solo.

Gerald Porteous toasted the school administrators and Mr. Roy Banta replied. A duet was sung by Lorraine and Helen.

May Kelly made the toast to the teaching staff to which Mr. H. Mumby replied. Beth Landymore played a beautiful piano solo.

Mrs. Wm. Aldred replied to a pleasant toast made by Viola Harder to the ladies and parents. Joanne Copley, graduate sang "Danny Boy" and received a great ovation.

The guest speaker was Dr. Woodsworth, assistant principal of the University of Alberta Calgary Branch and he was introduced by Neil Bannister.

His talk for over half an hour was pleasing and instructive to the graduates as well as to all present. His topic was "Mature Personality." He stressed the advantages of a fine personality when one is seeking a start in life and how even a good sound education is useless to hold people's interest and respect without a pleasant character behind it all. He brought in all the various phases of personality and dwelt on each.

He was cordially thanked for his interesting talk by Donna McNaughton, graduate.

Presentations were made to Mr. Turly and Mr. Mumby by Gerald Porteous. Neil Bannister presented the graduates with gifts. The graduating class presented the principal with a picture of a mountain scene as a parting gift. This was to be hung in the school.

The hall upstairs was most elaborately trimmed in pink, turquois and white streamers which radi-

CWL Holds 2nd Annual Banquet

BEISEKER — The second annual banquet of the Beiseker CWL was held on Thursday, May 29, in the district Memorial Hall, with a large attendance present.

The new president Mrs. A. A. Wald welcomed the ladies and guests with a very inspiring talk.

Father Tennant introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Father Tessier of Carstairs. He gave a very interesting talk on parts taken from the book called "You Can Change the World," by Father James Keller, and also stressed the importance of religious education in the home and school.

This was followed by a piano sale by Mrs. L. Brosteaux.

The banquet was followed by the regular monthly meeting with the installation of the new officers taking place.

Plans were made for a Strawberry Festival to be held in the latter part of June.

Mrs. Plowman was the lucky winner for the evening's pool.

Johnson Receives 18-Month Sentence

BEISEKER—Herbert Johnson, a member of the Lord Strathcona Horse, was sentenced on Wednesday to 18 months with hard labor for attempting to rob the Purity Service Station in Beiseker early Wednesday morning.

F. P. Schmaltz noticed the suspicious looking character and immediately phoned Cpl. Bvers and, with the help of Percy, the suspect was picked up right away.

H. and S.A. To Meet June 9

BEISEKER—The next regular meeting of the H. and S.A. will be held Monday, June 9, at 8 p.m. in the school. This is the last meeting of the current term. Annual committee reports will be given, also other important business for discussion.

ated from a wheel in the centre of the hall. A great CHS in black on a checkerboard design at the front brought the school letters to prominence.

The Alta Nite Riders supplied the music for the dance and it was indeed a pleasure to view the beautiful formal gowns with their various colorful corsages.

The elimination dance was won by Reg Baxter and Mildred Rowat.

Those coming back to Crossfield especially for the occasion were Chas. Smith, Lynn Price, Ken Koton, Mrs. Jim Rowat and Birgit Anderson—all ex-students, and many other students attended whose homes were in town. It was a grand evening and a wonderful success.

NEW EXPERIMENTAL CHRYSLER CONVERTIBLE C-200

Chrysler Corporation's experimental C-200 convertible, designed in Detroit by Chrysler engineers and built in Italy, arrived in New York City from Europe, aboard the Liner, S.S. Constitution. The picture shows the convertible being lowered to the dock after a fast Trans-Atlantic crossing.

The C-200 convertible was conceived and designed by Chrysler Engineers in Detroit as "a further experiment to explore the blending of sports car styling with practical automobile design and engineering features".

European influence is reflected in the longer hood, and large, fully exposed wire wheels.

Spring Horse Show

Unqualified approval of a job well done must be accorded Mr. C. W. Ross and his executive who so ably put on the 1952 Edmonton Spring Horse Show. At a time when horses for utility and work are fast becoming a thing of the past on our farms, it is nevertheless re-assuring to know that lovers of good "horseflesh" are able to put on such an outstanding show.

Grant McEwan, of the University of Manitoba, announced that in at least one class, Saddle Pairs, all entries were so well matched and of such a high standard that it was extremely difficult to make selection of prize winners.

It is unfortunate that more farmers of Northern Alberta did not know of the Spring Horse Show but we understand that this weakness in advance publicity will be corrected next year. Generally speaking, few farmers at this time of year subscribe to a daily paper and few have time to spend long hours listening to the radio. Officials of the Northern Alberta Light Horse Society should try to fill in the gap another year by co-operating with the weekly press, which serves rural Alberta, on advertising and publicity.

New Yacht for the Queen

The British have decided to build the royal family a new yacht. The present royal yacht was built for Queen Victoria, and has lain for years in Portsmouth harbor, condemned as "unseaworthy" by the Admiralty.

The new royal yacht will be a four thousand ton, twenty-one-knot, fifty-five beam craft. It will cost about three million dollars and will be convertible to a hospital ship in time of war.

Britain has always provided its rulers with adequate seagoing transportation but in recent years this tradition has been neglected. King George VI was the first ruling monarch in three centuries who did not own a seagoing yacht. Charles II had twenty-six yachts. Queen Victoria had eight built during her sixty-four year reign. In England a royal yacht is not considered a luxury but a necessity. And since the Duke of Edinburgh served with the Royal Navy in the last war as a Lieutenant, it is altogether fitting that the Royal couple enjoy a royal yacht — at least that is how the British Conservative Government feels about it.

Irrigation Possibilities

Nearly 30 per cent of the earth's land area, or about 9 billion acres, is arid or desert soil. Only about 100 million acres of this, less than 1 per cent, are presently irrigated. An additional 200 million acres can be put "under the ditch."

The above information was given in an address by Dr. Charles E. Kellogg, chief of the United States soil survey division, at the international conference on desert irrigation held in Jerusalem.

Dr. Kellogg pointed out that soil scientists have hitherto been unable to study arid soils located far away from population centres. In his opinion many teams of experts will be needed to make any progress in this new and untouched field. Unless soil irrigation projects are carefully picked, a lot of money and effort will be wasted.

Swine Production Booklet

The federal department of agriculture has just issued a revised edition of the pamphlet, "Swine Production," copies of which are obtainable from district agricultural offices, or by writing to the Lacombe experimental station, where the booklet was prepared. Giving up-to-date information on the feeding, care and management of swine, this pamphlet should be read by all hog producers.

The Church and the Gospel

By T. W. FUE

Speeches given at the recent United Church Conference in Lethbridge would indicate that several Church leaders are not satisfied with the work being done by the Church. I wonder if in considering the "work" of the Church, church leaders of today are feeling any real satisfaction with the message being delivered from the pulpits, Sunday by Sunday, in our present day churches.

It is possible for a person to attend church from the day of their christening to the day of their death, and never know the fundamental purpose for the church's existence.

Many of our present day preachers and ministers are like John Wesley, who, born and brought up in the atmosphere of the Church of England of the early eighteenth century, became a renowned preacher of great eloquence, acceptable to any pulpit in London. But that was before John Wesley found that he had the form of Christian faith only and not the substance.

T. W. Fue

Wesley found, after a missionary trip to America and a meeting-up with a small group of German Moravian Christians that he was not converted, not saved, not born again.

But John Wesley, like the Prodigal son, did indeed come to a knowledge of his soul's lost condition and after years of formal Christianity took on the very substance in a right-about-face conversion and joyfully sprang to the task of preaching his new-found gospel in the old familiar pulpits.

If any argument was required to prove John Wesley was a new man "born again" it is this: that his old church associates didn't want him preaching the gospel of salvation in their churches! So the veteran preacher, but new convert had to go out into the "highways and byways" of England to preach to the unchurched common people of England. And from that began the great Methodist movement that brought in its wake not only the great spiritual changes but also the social revolutions of the 18th and 19th centuries.

NEEDED: A 1952 WESLEY

Travellers from England these days report that the gospel of salvation through the vicarious sufferings of Christ is now being preached in the "low" Church of England, but not the "high." Present-day Methodists and Baptists seem to avoid preaching it today in England as so many of them do here in Canada. It is unusual to hear a Baptist or United Church Minister tell their congregation that they have to accept the Lord Jesus as their personal saviour if they are to gain Everlasting Life.

It is not difficult, therefore, to understand what happened in the life of Elva Sherwin, wife of Richard W. Sherwin, Edmonton contractor, who died recently in Philadelphia and was buried in Edmonton.

At the funeral service, the minister recounted how, having lived most of her life in the atmosphere of the Christian church, she, with her husband, found one day they were both lacking in the vital factor "spiritual re-birth" and how this important event in her life changed her for time and eternity.

She was first baptized in the Church of Christ at Hanna at the age of 11. Along with her husband she experienced a new birth of spirit at the Beulah Tabernacle in Edmonton in the spring of 1949. This quickening of her inner life brought unhesitant commitment to Christ as her personal Saviour and Lord of Life. From that time she walked more closely with God, had more definite purpose in living, and experienced a deeper joy which was apparent to her friends and loved ones. Thus, as her "outer nature" was wasting, her "inner nature" was being renewed day by day.

Is there a John Wesley in Alberta to sound the clarion call of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to re-awaken Albertans, religious and irreligious alike, to find the Saviour as Elva Sherwin did?

Note and Comment

A farmer in Craig County, Oklahoma, which pays a bounty for every wolf killed, made no attempt — despite frequent opportunities — to kill a wolf that lived on his property and constantly raided local chicken coops. Finally his neighbors demanded to know why.

"Well," he explained, "I got bounties off her nine pups this spring and bounties off her seven last year. Guess I'm just too soft-hearted, thinking of a mother and her young."

WHY NOT PAINT A CLEAR PICTURE?

(From the Canmore Canadian)

There is a group of people who are trying to confuse the rural electrification picture in Alberta. They are undoubtedly sincere in their desire to make the utility a publicly owned affair. They use comparisons between Alberta and Manitoba and between Alberta and Saskatchewan to entice the Alberta farmers under their wing.

It is true that Manitoba builds the lines direct to the farm to be served and that there are 27,000 farms already electrified in Manitoba. It is also true that the Manitoba Power Commission owes the Provincial Government the sum of $35,000,000 with an addition of $10,000,000 under authorization and not yet expended. This part of the story is never mentioned from the public platform.

And another thing, Manitoba has had a surplus of power since 1910 and has been in the rural electrification picture for twenty years. Likewise, the Saskatchewan Power Commission owes the Saskatchewan Provincial Government $41,000,000.

This province has made no bones of its inability to construct free rural lines to farm premises. Saskatchewan is not so fortunate, being situated as either Manitoba or Alberta in the matter of power resources. She has few hydro potentials near to present centres of population. Should Alberta decide to make power a publicly owned utility at the present time, the Province would be required to assume an additional bonded indebtedness of $100,000,000.

As far as rates go at the present time, Alberta customers enjoy rates as low as Manitoba and lower than Saskatchewan and are not carrying any of the bonded indebtedness as an indirect charge against the utility.

Another interesting feature of the argument is that Manitoba's 27,000 rural installations are confined within a geographical area of less than one-third the area in Alberta from the Edmonton district south to the international border, eliminating the Peace River area entirely.

Voice of the People

ONE WAR IS ENOUGH

This was true in 1946, and is more true today.

Technocracy has always realized that war will be popular as long as the Price System exists. War brings Price System prosperity. World War II produced the greatest profits in history. In the release "Sanctified Salvation," August 31, 1944, Continental Headquarters of Technocracy Inc., stated:

"Amid the Hollywood glamourizing of this price system of ours and the too, too wonderful results of free enterprise in winning everything from the soap derby to the war, one great irony hits us in the face in the midst of our lush prosperity. Only during a total world war has the Price System of U. S. and Canada, with all its slobbering inefficiencies, approached full employment and prosperous living conditions. This startling fact must be apparent to every American today that only under a world war can our government spend hundreds of billions of dollars, and only if our government can continue to spend hundreds of billions of dollars can we, as a nation, continue to purchase apparent full employment and apparent prosperity. Only during a world war has the Price System of this North America been able to offer the glittering bribery to almost every segment of the national structure, a bribery so attractive that it seduces all citizens into the rapturous acceptance of more of the same, of more wages for the worker, greater salaries for the employed, higher prices for the farmer, more customers for corporate enterprise, and more and better rackets to create more delinquents..."

Under the Price System, men like war because it brings material benefits, with or without risk. What many persons apparently do not realize is that, with the advent of the atomic bomb, war has become too dangerous—every region of the world becomes a potential battlefield and every citizen is engaged.

In an article "One War Is Enough," (Atlantic Monthly, February, 1946) a veteran of forty months of war duty blasts the apathetic attitude of today:

"Probably I shall be tagged as a psychoneurotic veteran of too much bloodshed when I say that I get alternately fighting mad and cold sick inside whenever I hear people talk about the next war. I cannot understand how they can be resigned to the prospects of another global conflict, so casual in their assumption that wars are inevitable, so damnably aware of the consequences of their current complacency.

"Has everyone in this country lost faith in peace? Here we stand on the threshold of what could be a new and better world, and our fainthearted citizenry insists upon looking backward and muttering that what has always been must be..."

If the people of North America remain in their present state of torpor at the approach of war, like birds hypnotized by a snake, they will surely be consumed.

Today on this continent only Technocracy stands firmly against the drift toward war. All other organizations are part and parcel of the Price System—the system that cannot exist much longer in time of peace.

Operating under the rules of the Price System game, our political and business leaders have been guilty of technological sabotage for many years. And today those who conspire to wage war to perpetuate an outworn system are guilty of technological treason. Judgment will be made by the historical march of events, and the blame will lie equally on all who meekly permit our technological heritage to be sold out to Mars and Mammon.

I see that you have changed the subject and are now discussing my inability, lack of grammar and such; you also complain of wasting your time, well you sure are (yours and mine too) because I am not interested in your opinion of me personally.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

One Way To Do It
Junior was a little terror, the scourge of his home and the neighborhood, so Papa was understandably surprised when Mama suggested they buy him a bicycle. "Do you think it will improve his behavior?" inquired Papa. "No," answered Mama grimly. "but it might spread his meanness over a larger area."

A Real Surprise
A famous author was autographing copies of his new novel in a large department store. One gentleman pleased him by bringing not only his new book for signature, but reprint editions of the author's two previous works as well.

"My wife likes your stuff," he remarked rather apologetically, "so I thought I'd give her these signed copies for a birthday present."

"A surprise, eh?" hazarded the author.

"I'll say," agreed the customer. "She's expecting a mink coat."

Country Wit

The city slicker halted his car at a desolate crossroads and yelled to a farmer driving a load of hay: "Hey, Cornsilk, is this the way to Chicago?"

The farmer looked up in feigned astonishment. "By gum, stranger, how'd ye know my name was cornsilk?"

"I guessed it," answered the slicker.

"Then by heck," snapped the farmer, "guess your way to Chicago!"

Carry On!

One sunny afternoon two silent lanky mountaineers met on a wooded trail. One stared at the other with a puzzled expression and inquired:

"Look here, David, what do you mean by shooting at me? I ain't got no quarrel with you."

"You had a feud with Abe Gordon, didn't you?" asked the other.

"Sure, but Abe's dead."

"Well," was the stern reply, "I'm his executor."

Alberta Lawyers To Argue Appeal

Five Alberta lawyers will travel to London some time in June, but it won't be a pleasure trip.

All will appear before the Privy Council about June 30 to argue a legal case of the utmost importance to Alberta oil men.

The four Calgary lawyers are H. G. Nolan, Q.C., Harold W. Riley, Q.C., S. J. Helman, Q.C., and D. Rae Fisher. George Steer, Q.C., of Edmonton, will round out the group.

The appeal arises from the recent Alberta Supreme Court 4-1 decision that the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and Imperial Oil Ltd., were entitled to use the natural gas belonging to Michael Borys in removing their petroleum from under his 160-acre farm in the Ledue oilfield.

Since the suit was started before appeals to the Privy Council were abolished in Canada, the Supreme Court of Canada has been by-passed.

Priest Says Man In Moon Is Woman

ST. ADOLPHE, Man.—(BUP)—The Rev. Leon Rivard, owner of the largest home-made telescope in the province, claims the Man in the Moon is a woman.

The 67-year-old Roman Catholic priest presented details for proof. Her figure measures 860 miles from head to toe and can be seen lying between two mountain chains on the southwest segment of the satellite.

The elderly priest has studied hundreds of stars as well as the trajectory of planets, during the past three years. He first began his study in 1948 with a three-inch mirror telescope.

His interest in the heavenly bodies began while he was studying for the priesthood at Ste. Hyacinthe, Que. It was not until after five years as a missionary and 32 years as a pastor at Ile de Chene, Man., however, that he took a serious interest in his hobby.

His observatory on the grounds of the St. Adolphe Catholic convent has a dome rising more than 20 feet and is designed to the exact scale of the Dominion Observatory at Victoria, B.C. He calls it "Observatoire St. Andre" after the French saint.

The dome houses a powerful 65-inch Newtonian reflecting telescope and has two large panels which open at one section of the roof to give full view of the skies. The 65-inch reflector is believed the most powerful in the province.

The telescope, mounted exactly the same as those in Victoria and Mt. Palomar, Calif., can probe the heavens 40,000,000 light years away while the concave reflector surface can magnify up to 260 diameters.

The reflecting mirror, ground to precision by Father Rivard, has lead pipes for supporting rods, a washing machine wheel for pivoting and tobacco cans filled with lead for counter-balance weights.

Father Rivard says he has a lot of work to do on his home observatory yet. He plans to build a precision clock to automatically keep the telescope lined up with whatever heavenly body he is studying, and a camera to take pictures of any new developments in the universe.

M.P.'s Learn Law, Study Languages

OTTAWA, Ont.—(BUP)—Three of the house of commons' most prominent figures are practising new academic attainments this session.

House speaker W. Ross Macdonald recently completed an intensive short course in French at Laval University, to become fluent in the commons' two official languages.

George A. Drew, opposition leader, took a similar course and recently demonstrated his capabilities in that direction in a Richelieu club address in Montreal.

House clerk Leon J. Raymond, who succeeded clerk emeritus Dr. Arthur Beauchesne two years ago, is taking a course in constitutional law from senior law clerk, Dr. Maurice Olivier.

Forest Fire Biggest Yet

EDMONTON—The biggest forest fire of the season raged Sunday night in young timber growth south of McMurray in northern Alberta.

"It's the biggest yet," said Chief Timber Inspector J. L. Jansen as he reported that a bulldozer and at least 20 fire fighters were battling the blaze. It broke out in the middle of last week.

The fire is near Cheecham 40 miles south of McMurray, which is about 240 miles northeast of Edmonton.

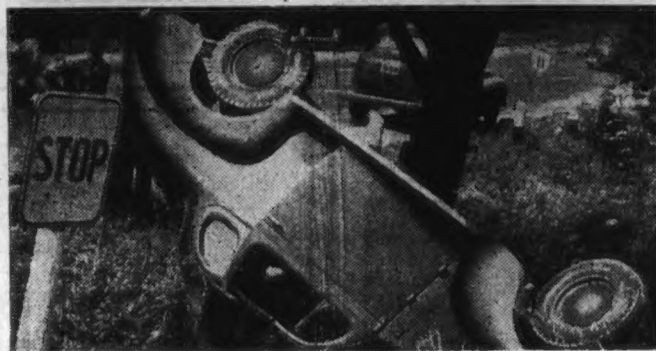

Mr. Jansen said that three other bush fires burning in northern Alberta either were under control or being brought under control.

These fires were in the Hooke Lake area about 280 miles northeast of Edmonton, east of McMurray and east of High Prairie. The blaze near High Prairie, about 175 miles northwest of Edmonton, burned over 140 acres.

is being used to finance traveling, radio broadcast and publication of Social Credit literature.

He said collections are made through groups known as "100 Clubs." These are formed in constituencies throughout Alberta and have 100 members each. Each member pays $10 a year.

Edmonton Trying For Steel Mill

Edmonton's industrial commissioner, G. W. Curtis, was scheduled to leave for New York Monday to sell Edmonton to a steel company interested in locating in Alberta.

A reliable informant said the firm has made preliminary plans to build a $1,500,000 steel mill and has checked possible sites in Edmonton, Calgary and Red Deer.

Curtis will attempt to sell Edmonton's east industrial pocket as the best site for the mill. He declined to identify the firm until negotiations are more advanced.

Find Missing Farmer's Body

EDMONTON — R.C.M.P. reported the body of 60 year-old Morinville farmer Mike Kozlowski, missing since Jan. 8, has been found in a clump of bushes near Fedora, 35 miles northeast of Edmonton. Police said there was no indication of foul play.

The body was found Friday by farmers of the Fedora district. The man's car was found a short distance from where the body lay beside a seldom travelled side road.

The man was not reported missing until a few days ago. His family told police they were under the impression he was away on a trip.

BRIDGE TO OPEN ON JUNE 9TH

ATHABASCA — Only a few days remain until the pageantry parade will mark the official opening of the new bridge across the Athabasca. Hurried preparations are on every hand—floats to build, floats to trim, costumes to make, vehicles to prepare, banners to write and decoration to fasten up. These will be the prelude to the historic opening of the bridge—envisioned for years, and now a reality.

The RCAF band, famous across Canada, will lead the mammoth parade which will wind over the bridge starting at 1 p.m. Dignitaries, historical figures, floats, dogs, planes, cars and even oxen will be moving in the line-up. This will be a sight for all to come and see as well as remember over the years.

Rumors about the original floats being planned will give the judge of the best float a tough time in making his decision. The addition of Indians in war paint and feathered headdress will recall days long gone by when only moccasined feet tramped the trails in these parts. To many an old-timer these recollections will provide a culmination to the day when scenes of his youth will be depicted before his eyes.

The Board of Trade worked for over two hours on Monday May 26, checking on final plans and preparations as made by the committees. The parade will be followed by the annual Air Cadet inspection when the local squadron, No. 230, will parade, drill and march past.

A band concert in the open air for one hour will follow the inspection after which the bridge will be officially opened. A program of sports with a tug-of-war for ownership of the bridge will take up the remainder of the afternoon.

A banquet and presentation will be held in the Community Centre at 7 o'clock for which tickets will be sold. Anyone desiring a ticket should see Bob Berrea, Athabasca. At 9:00 p.m. a dance with music by the RCAF orchestra will be the grand finale to an eventful day.

Frost-Boil Damage Held To 10 Miles

Highways Minister Taylor reported that not more than 10 miles of Alberta roads were damaged by frost boils this spring.

"But those 10 miles have held up traffic," he added, "and they are being repaired as soon as the frost boils dry out."

The minister completed an inspection tour through the coal branch west of Edmonton and south to Okotoks, Bentley and Innisfail. He said frost-boil damage this spring was more extensive than in the last several years. The damage was caused by unusually "wet" winter.

Couple Married In Athabasca

ATHABASCA—All Saints Anglican Church, Athabasca, was the scene of a quiet wedding at 2 p.m. on May 24 when Marjorie Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strucker of Prosperity was united in marriage with Stuart Roger, son of Mrs. S. M. Spani of Athabasca. The officiating clergyman was Archdeacon N. Humphreys.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss M. Cameron. The bride chose a grey summer suit with white accessories and carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and lily-of-the-valley. She was attended by Miss Joyce Spani of Saskatoon, who also wore a grey suit with white accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was attended by Mr. Gordon Tennace of Edmonton. Guests were ushered by Mr. Owen Junk.

The bride's parents entertained at a reception held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Falconer Jr. The bride's mother chose an afternoon dress of rose and navy with white and navy accessories and a corsage of tea rose buds.

The groom's mother wore a gold dress with white and green accessories. Her corsage was of talsman rose buds.

Archdeacon Humphreys proposed a suitable toast to the bride which was aptly replied to by the groom.

Serviteurs were Mrs. F. Glickman, and Misses Jean Young and Elizabeth Ballard, assisted by Owen Junk.

The young couple will make their home at 7647 101 St., Edmonton.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:-
I am a girl of 14 in the 9th grade and am having some trouble deciding whom I should like.
A is a boy I have known all my life. of nice people and has always been so good to me. B came along and I started liking him a lot. He is better looking, has lovely manners and is of nice people, but doesn't want me to like anyone else.
Should I drop A or B? I would like to like, both but it seems as if I can't.
PUZZLED.

ANSWER:
Really, Puzzled, I think it is a mistake for a girl as young as you to drop all her boy friends but one.

If they break up later on, it is more difficult for her to take up where she left off than for him.
I know, however, that in many communities this custom of going steady begins at an early age and its only advantage is that the girl always knows she has a date for all important social functions.
Why don't you explain to B that A has been a friend of yours for so long that you just can't drop him but that you will have more dates with B than with A? This may help.

He Loved Sea But She Didn't

LOS ANGELES—A merchant marine captain who can't stand living ashore and a wife who can't take life at sea make a poor marital combination, Superior Judge Orlando Rhodes agreed.

He awarded a divorce to Mrs. Sophie Proamos Fafalios 39, of Hermosa Beach, when she testified that her years at sea with Fafalios had, in effect, sent her love for him awash.

Married in 1945 to Stavos L. Fafalios, 36, then a first mate on a freighter, she tried living aboard ship for two years as the only woman among 48 men.

Mrs. Fafalios said she couldn't eat the food, had no one to talk to and couldn't stand the changes of climate in 14 different countries they visited.

She finally persuaded her husband to settle down at Hermosa Beach, she said, but after a year as a landlubber he announced he had had enough and wanted to go back to sea.

Here is one of my embarrassing moments.

Some of my friends and I attended a dance quite far from home. Everyone was a stranger to us but I thought I recognized one girl but couldn't get to talk to her. While dancing she happened to be near me so I decided to speak to her. In doing this I hit her rather hard on the shoulder and to my surprise, who turns and faces me but an elderly lady! I barely whispered "I'm Sorry."

DISAPPOINTED,
Donatville.

How Do You Conserve Soil?

The greatest extravagance of the people of Western Canada today is the needless waste of the country's land and water resources. Extravagance means living beyond one's means—and we have been doing exactly that with respect to our prairie topsoil. Unless we prevent this extravagance, which is reducing each year the productivity of millions of acres of fertile farm land, Western Canada will eventually become one of the "have-not" countries of the world. By proper land use we can, if we will, protect and conserve our soils.

Things That Can Be Done. Here are some of the things every farmer in Western Canada can do this year—no, not next year, this year—to conserve topsoil. (1) Use suitable, approved erosion-control practices to stop washing and blowing. (2) Stop excessive cultivation of land that washes or blows easily. (3) Use tillage, stubble-mulching (trash cover), and other cropping practices to protect the soil and save rainfall. (4) Hold the rain that falls on the land for the use of crops, grasses, trees, livestock, and for other purposes. (5) Use manure and fertilizer where needed, in the right amounts and at the right time. (6) Plant grasses or legumes on areas too steep or shallow to cultivate profitably. (7) Eliminate over-grazing when grass is thin and short by practicing controlled or rotational grazing. (8) Improve native pastures and planted grasslands through better management. (9) Plan and use a well-balanced cropping program, which includes grasses and legumes.

Saving the Soil. According to Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, the father of the soil conservation movement of the United States, these and other sound farming practices, which protect the land and increase production, are the real tools of soil conservation. Through their continual use prairie farmers can save their topsoil. Use them yourself—encourage your neighbors to practice soil conservation measures in 1952.
